CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When Santa Claus makes his chimney-to-chimney goodwill journey Thursday night he may find that space resembles a freeway at rush hour.

He might be wise to equip his sleigh with control jets or retro-rockets so he and his reindeer can maneuver through the jam of fast-moving satellites and "space junk" orbited by man.

The latest count shows there are 297 man-made objects racing through space at altitudes from 100 miles to several million miles.

These are satellites, dead and alive; burned out rocket casings, and fragments of metal which have fallen off satellites or rockets. They are widely scattered and Santa should have little trouble weaving around them.

But he'd better have his radar on the alert for a cluster of 202 small fragments which are orbiting close together. They are the fallout from a U.S. Transit navigation satellite rocket which disintegrated in 1961.

If Santa doesn't want to become a pincushion, he'd better detour around the band of Project West Ford space needles. These are 400 million hair-thin copper wires, called dipoles, launched in 1962 in a communications experiment. They are about 2,000 miles up and form a continuous north-to-south belt around the earth about five miles wide and 25 miles thick.

Boy, 15, Killed In Police Chase

DETROIT (AP) — Police said they were investigating the fatal shooting Tuesday of a 15-year-old boy who was fleeing from a patrolman investigating a burglary.

The victim tentatively was identified as Nathaniel Williams. Police said the boy was shot in the head by Patrolman Calvin Berry.

Police said the boy and a 14-year-old companion were reported "messing around with an air conditioner" at a window of a house. Police were called by a neighbor.

Inspector Hiram Phipps said Berry and another police officer, Leo Quaine, went to the house and found a door window broken and the lock forced.

Phipps said two persons in the house, attempted to flee. Berry and Quaine called for them to halt. The 14-year-old stopped, but police said the other youth ran to the door of the house and attempted to get away.

Phipps said Berry fired at the youth got outside the house and was closing the door.

Efforts Made To Avert Strike Of Dock Crews

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) —

President Johnson's peacemaker in the contract dispute between Gulf Coast longshoremen and shippers tried today to get both sides around the bargaining table again. He said no immediate results were expected.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds held separate meetings Tuesday with representatives of the International Longshoremen's Association and the West Gulf Maritime Industry.

Reynolds said he feels that "there is a lot of misunderstanding that can be cleared up," and thus possibly avert a dock strike the length of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

While union leaders have approved a proposed new contract with New York shippers, the Gulf Coast ILA — involving ports from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex. — is at a stalemate in its negotiations.

Bargaining halted Saturday. Longshoremen have continued work on a day-to-day basis since an 80-day no strike injunction obtained by the federal government expired Sunday.

Should the Gulf dock workers strike, there is a possibility of sympathy strikes which could paralyze shipping on the Eastern seaboard.

The dispute reportedly hinges on the size of work gangs. Houston-Galveston ILA locals have sought a minimum of 18 men to the gang. Presently there is no contract provision for any minimum.

The new agreement reached in New York would permit gradual reduction in the size of work gangs.

There also is an unsettled question of whether any pay increase would be retroactive to Oct. 1, when the old contract ran out.

Outbreak Of Flu Unlikely In 1965

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service predicts the nation will escape any big flu outbreak this winter.

There have been only a few local concentrations of Asian or other types of influenza so far this year. There probably would have been many more if a major epidemic were imminent, the service noted.

The agency again recommended vaccinations, especially for those in "high-risk" groups — pregnant women, the elderly and those with heart trouble or other chronic diseases.

In response to questions, health service officials said all signs indicate no widespread epidemic will hit the country, although there is always the possibility of localized outbreaks.

The present situation, they said, bears out forecasts made last summer by an advisory committee to the surgeon general.

In general, those forecasts were that the 1964-65 winter season shapes up as a comparatively light year on flu for two reasons:

1. As regards Asian, or type A-2 flu — the newest and most feared type in recent years — the nation suffered widespread outbreaks in 1962-1963; and the West Coast and parts of southern Minnesota were hit hard by the same virus last winter. The experts feel the betting averages are against another major outbreak so soon after those.

2. As for influenza "type-B" — another major form — widespread epidemics are relatively rare anyway. The United States was hit by a tough one as recently as 1961-62.

The American Medical Association gives this advice regarding flu: "Exercise general health precautions. If the flu breaks out in your neighborhood, do not enter any place where crowds congregate. Dress warmly for extremely cold weather and keep your body in shape so you can resist a virus infection. Finally, if you do get sick, call your doctor at once."

Comsat Will Pay 3.5 Million For Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. — Comsat — announced today it will pay the government about $3.5 million to launch its "Early Bird" commercial satellite as soon as possible after March 1.

The contract, signed by Comsat and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, commits NASA to perform similar launchings at Comsat's option after July 1. Ultimately, the earth will be circled with satellites for a permanent system of telephone, message and television transmission.

The Early Bird will be placed in synchronous orbit — that is, "standing" at 22,300 miles altitude above a fixed spot in the Atlantic — with NASA providing the launch vehicle and services, telemetry and tracking data.

Once successfully in orbit, the satellite will be turned over to Comsat. If tests are successful, commercial service should start about two months after the launching. The target date for permanent, full-scale commercial service is 1967.

The contract calls for Comsat to reimburse NASA for "actual governmental costs incurred for launches, whether or not successful," the corporation said, and the payment per launch "is on the order of $3.5 million."

"NASA will also provide a backup launch in the event 'Early Bird' is unsuccessful," the announcement said.

Brother Admits Plant Shooting

HILLSDALE (AP) — A Hillsdale barber testified Tuesday that he — and not his brother who currently is on trial — shot a security guard during the turbulent Essex Wire Corp. strike last spring.

The witness, Joe LoPresto, 38, said he wounded Lewis Scott, 27, of Detroit, with a shotgun blast when the guard started moving toward LoPresto's son, Tony, 16, during a fracas with three company guards in near-Jonesville last May 26.

Joe LoPresto's brother, Angelo, 37, a service station operator, is on trial on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The same charge has been filed against both brothers.

Joe LoPresto testified that he only intended to wound Scott during the scuffle.

"If I'd wanted to kill the guy he wouldn't be sitting in this court today because I'm a better shot than that," LoPresto said.

Joe's testimony was corroborated on the witness stand by his brother.

The shooting was one of several incidents that eventually led to Gov. George Romney calling out the National Guard when local authorities admitted they were unable to maintain order at the strike scene.

Storms Batter 4 States In Pacific Northwest

By The Associated Press

Torrential rains, whipped along on gale force winds, continued to sweep across four Pacific Northwest states today, imperiling scores of cities and towns and causing millions of dollars of damage.

Six persons have died and three rescuers were missing in the two-day storm that forced at least 5,000 persons to flee before the raging waters of a dozen flood-swollen mountain rivers.

A helicopter with three Coast Guardsmen aboard was missing after evacuating 10 people off an island in California's Eel River.

Whole Towns Evacuated

Federal, state, and local disaster units worked frantically through the night in 65-mile-an-hour winds to complete evacuation of whole towns as the storm raged. The Weather Bureau predicted no let up today.

Another storm, about 700 miles off the coast, was expected to bring more rain by Christmas, the Weather Bureau forecast.

California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown at midday declared four northwestern counties disaster areas and appealed for federal assistance. Five other hard-hit northern counties sent urgent pleas for the state capitol for relief.

In Oregon, Gov. Mark Hatfield issued the disaster call and placed the National Guard on alert.

Gov. Grant Sawyer called out the Nevada National Guard to help workmen sandbag storefronts in downtown Reno as the Truckee River's flood waters spilled out of the Sierra into the heart of town.

At El Centro, inland, a newsman turned around to see who was shoving his chair.

At Palm Springs, on the desert, waves were observed on the city's hundreds of swimming pools.

In Tijuana, Mexico, Avenida Revolution was jammed with people who fled from shops and restaurants.

Idaho's National Guardsmen were put on emergency duty by Gov. Robert E. Smylie, and 50 men were rushed to the beleaguered town of Bancroft in the southeastern part of the state.

Natural disaster seemed the order of the day. San Diego was hit by an earthquake, causing panic in the downtown area and widespread, but minor, damage.

Four drownings were blamed on the storm in Oregon. Dr. Robert Dickson, 60, of Chinook, Mont., drowned when the bridge over Interstate 80N gave way and he was thrown into the John Day River. Edward Kilgore, 48, of Sutherlin, Ore., and Ella Cox, 65, of Roxberg, Ore., were carried away by the overflow of Calapooya creek after they fled their stranded car. An unidentified child perished in a car that ran into a washout in a canyon southeast of The Dalles, state police reported.

Most major rivers continued to rise and were over flood stage late Tuesday night. Only Interstate 5 remained open, and highway officials feared it would be two or three days before east-west roads could be opened.

All rail traffic was disrupted. Southern Pacific's line in the Cascade Mountains was blocked by a mudslide; the Union Pacific line was blocked at two points by washouts.

Numerous smaller towns were isolated by blocked roads and severed telephone lines. The $2.4-million John Day bridge, only a year old, was among the many bridges washed out.

San Diego Area Has Earthquake

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) —

An earthquake shook Southern California and adjacent areas of Mexico — with these results:

In San Diego — where the quake Tuesday did most of its minor damage — fire alarms broke all over the city, windows broke by the score, some penny arcade pinball machines flashed "tilt," skyscrapers rocked like ships at sea, and beds rolled about on casters at Scripps Hospital.

At nearby National City, Mrs. E. C. Davey was shaken out of bed.

At El Centro, inland, a newsman turned around to see who was shoving his chair.

At Palm Springs, on the desert, waves were observed on the city's hundreds of swimming pools.

In Pasadena, Dr. Charles Richter of the California Institute of Technology seismology lab looked at his graphs, clocked the quake at 12:55 p.m., and assigned it a tentative magnitude of 5.7 on the Richter scale — on which the 1906 San Francisco quake was 8.3 and the Alaskan Good Friday quake was 8.5.

He said the quake probably originated on Mexico's Baja California Peninsula.

Bazooka Blast Aimed To Miss, Exiles Claim

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Cubans, identified as officials of an anti-Castro exile group, have been charged with taking part in the Dec. 11 bazooka shot at the United Nations building.

They were quoted as saying they purposely missed the 38-story East River skyscraper; that their motive was to take newspaper headlines from Ernesto Guevara, Cuban minister of industry, who was speaking to the U.N. General Assembly at the time.

Guevara is the No. 2 man in the Communist regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The three Cubans were booked Tuesday night in Queens, from where the rocket was fired.

The missile from the World War II German-made rocket launcher soared over a tugboat and exploded in the river about 100 yards from the U.N. secretariat building on the Manhattan shore. No one was hurt.

Stanley Ross, editor of El Tiempo, a Spanish-language weekly newspaper, said the three men told him before their arrests that they had purchased a deactivated bazooka for $35 from a war surplus store in Manhattan and fashioned a firing device out of an automobile ignition.

Ross said the men told him they could have hit the U.N. headquarters "but purposely didn't."

Ross said his reporters had found out who the perpetrators were and that he had urged the three to surrender. The three were planning to do that when police picked them up, he said.

Ross identified them as members of the Cuban Nationalist Movement, an anti-Castro group headquartered in Miami.

Police said the arrests resulted from painstaking work on their part, including checkups on the sale of bazookas.

There were unconfirmed reports the FBI would make further arrests in connection with the bazooka sale. The FBI declined comment.

The Cubans were booked as Julio Carlos Perez, 31, a Teletype repairman from the Bronx, and brothers Ignacio Novo, 26, a shoe salesman of Manhattan, and Guillermo Novo, 25, a doorman from North Bergen, N.J.

Chief of Detectives Philip J. Walsh, who gave the brothers' names as "Nova," said the three were charged with endangering life maliciously by placing an explosive near a building, and with attempting to damage a building or a vessel, both felonies punishable by up to 25 years in prison on each count. They also were charged with conspiracy, a misdemeanor.

In Miami, Felipe Rivero, national director of the Cuban Nationalist Association (or Movement), said Ignacio Nova was his organization's national secretary general, that Guillermo Novo was its delegate for New Jersey and that Julio Perez was chief of its "naval department."

Air Force Gets New Staff Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Air Force, heading into the new year with bright prospects for a new giant plane of hemisphere-spanning range, will get a new commander Feb. 1.

Emerging from a meeting with President Johnson in Texas Tuesday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced:

—Gen. John P. McConnell, 56, will become the new chief of staff of the Air Force when Gen. Curtis E. LeMay retires Feb. 1. McConnell, now vice chief of staff of the Air Force, is a strategic warfare expert.

—The Air Force proposal for a start on blueprinting a plane so enormous as to dwarf the largest now flying has been approved by McNamara and Johnson. The sky giant would be designed to carry 600 men or 250 tons of cargo great distances.

Funds for beginning development of the C5A will be included in the new military budget. Everything about the big plane is on a grand scale. Just to decide on the exact design, then design it, test it and build some experimental models will cost about $750 million; to build 58 such planes in a production program — which would constitute three squadrons — would cost about $1 billion, in addition to the development.

Oswald Widow Enrolls At UM

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Mrs. Marina Oswald, the widow of the alleged slayer of President Kennedy, has enrolled in the University of Michigan's English Language Institute.

The university said today that Mrs. Oswald had enrolled for an eight-week course of instruction in English. It said she would be one of about 100 students taking the course. Classes begin Jan. 7.

The university said the institute specialized in the teaching of English as a foreign language and that students came to it from throughout the world.

Mrs. Oswald arrived in this country from Russia in 1962. The university said she was interested in the course because of "her limited knowledge of English."

During her stay, Mrs. Oswald will be sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor.

THE MAN BEHIND Santa Claus at a news conference in Austin, Texas, is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. The secretary announced that President Johnson had approved plans to develop the world's largest plane. It would be capable of carrying 600 troops and would be used to speed the movement of men and materials to world trouble spots. (AP Wirephoto)

Cabinet Chiefs Discuss Budget With President

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Two more Cabinet members and the director of the foreign aid program discuss their budgets today with President Johnson.

The list of visitors to the LBJ Ranch includes Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski and AID chief David Bell.

Press secretary George E. Reedy said they will be the last of the government officials coming to the ranch this week in connection with Johnson's efforts to trim spending requests of departments and agencies.

With Budget Director Kermit Gordon at his side, Johnson is sitting as the court of last resort on appeals from Gordon's spending recommendations.

Giant Plane Approved

Only Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, a visitor Tuesday, has said he wasn't appealing anything. He said his department had worked out its budget satisfactorily with the Budget Bureau.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, another of Tuesday's callers, announced that Johnson had approved funds in the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 to begin work on the world's largest plane.

The air leviathan would be used to transport both men and equipment to any trouble spot in the world.

McNamara also announced:

1. Johnson approved his recommendation that Gen. John Paul McConnell, 56, be appointed to succeed Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as chief of staff of the Air Force.
2. The Pentagon budget for next year will be closer to $49 billion than the $50-billion figure he had forecast earlier.

Down 500 Million

"We have been able to achieve further economies while continuing to increase our military strength," McNamara said.

He said spending next year might be in the area of $500 million below this year's estimated $49.8 billion.

McNamara said the next budget would include $157 million to start development of a military transport plane so big it could span oceans at speeds of upwards of 550 miles an hour with 500 to 700 troops.

He said it would cost $750 million to develop the plane. He estimated the cost of building 58 of them at more than $1 billion.

McNamara said his interest in the plane is entirely for military purposes, but that it will also have potential commercial use for both passenger and cargo purposes.

Farnum Leaves His Job Jan. 2

LANSING (AP) — Auditor General Billie Farnum announced today he is resigning Jan. 2 to take his post in Congress, leaving the way clear for Gov. George Romney to appoint an acting auditor general.

"I have made this decision after a careful look at the statutory and constitutional problems surrounding the various operations now performed by the auditor general's department," Farnum said.

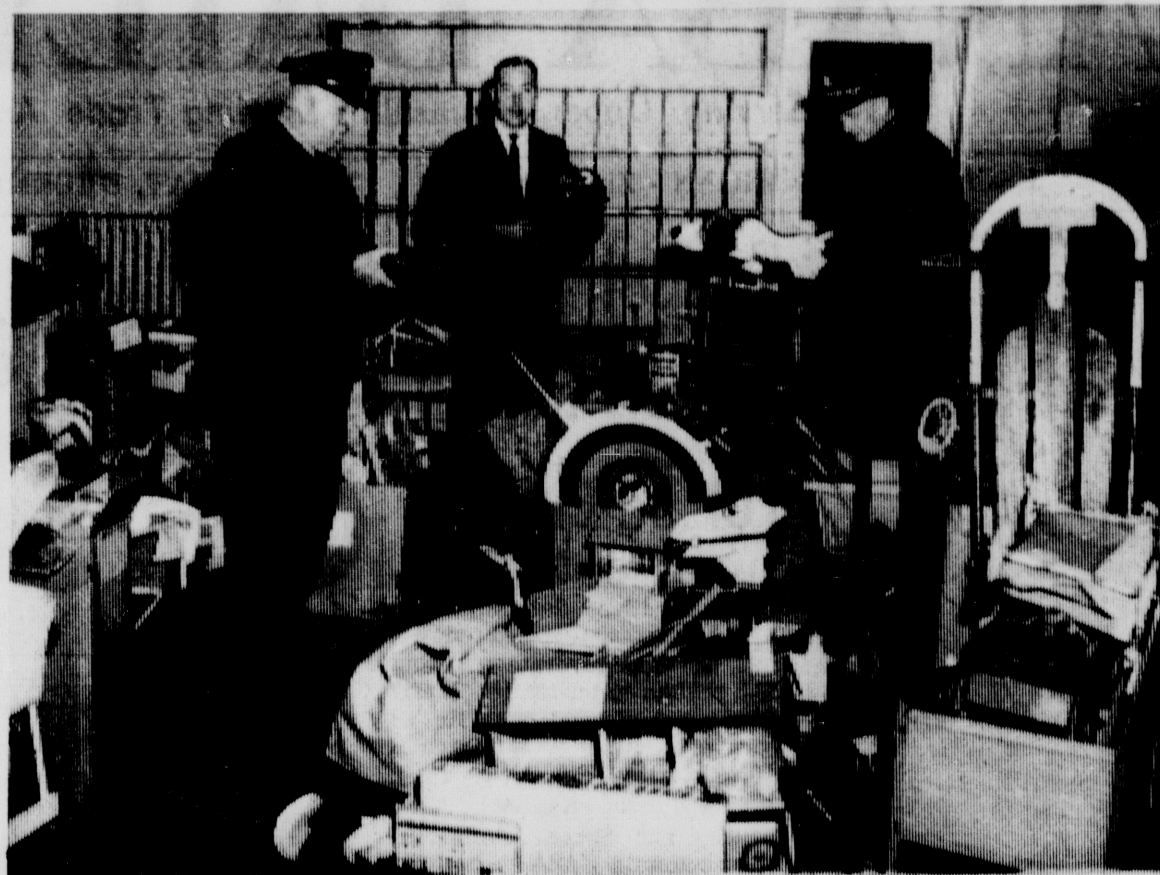

"These functions are so vital that I want to be sure there is no possibility of a breakdown in the exercise of these responsibilities."

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley had ruled that the auditor general could continue on the job until the reorganization of his office is complete.

Farnum, however, elected to take his congressional post from the new 19th District.

Romney is expected to appoint Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingston, the out-going GOP house speaker to the post. Green made an unsuccessful run for secretary of state against Democratic incumbent James Hare.

The acting auditor general will be able to stay in office until the reorganization is complete, even if a legislative auditor is appointed to take over some of the duties, Kelley said.

Pascoe Plans Apartments At Old St. Anne's

The purchase of the "old" St. Anne's Church site on S. 8th St. and plans for the construction of apartment buildings there was announced today by James Pascoe, Escanaba building contractor.

There are six lots about three-quarters of a block in the site purchased by Pascoe from St. Anne's Parish. Art Goulais was agent in the transaction.

"A master plan is to be prepared so that we can make the best possible use of the area and then I expect to put up a first apartment building with eight to 10 units starting in the fall of 1965," Pascoe said.

To Clear Site

"With good planning I estimate it will be possible to get a total of about 30 family units on the area without crowding. The buildings will be contemporary in design, each will be two stories, and each family unit will have two bedrooms and a total of about 1,500 square feet of floor space," said Pascoe, who has been in the home construction business here since 1957.

First work at the site will be the razing of the Sisters' home and Parish house, said Pascoe. These will be down by next spring and construction is planned to begin next fall on the first apartment building at the southwest corner of the site.

It was on this corner where stood the first St. Anne's Church, destroyed by fire July 16, 1947. Ground for the church had been broken in 1887 and the structure was completed the following year. St. Anne's School was built nearby in 1891.

St. Anne's Parish constructed a new church, school and convent on S. 23rd St., and the old school was razed and the site was offered for sale. The Planning Commission and the City Council approved a change in zoning for the area so multiple dwellings can be constructed there.

Planning Study

Fr. Stephen Mayrand, pastor of St. Anne's Church, said that a statue erected on the front of the Sister's home at the old site about 1923 is to be preserved. Fr. Mayrand said he believes it to be of cast bronze. It will be placed as a shrine on the grounds of the new church.

Pascoe said that he expects to use a crane to carefully lower the statue of St. Joseph (Sisters of St. Joseph staffed the school in the early days) to the ground.

In preparation for the planning that will accompany the start of the apartment building project, Pascoe will attend a National Home Builders Association school in St. Louis in February. The session will deal with the planning and construction of multi-family structures.

Pascoe, who resides with his family at 2136 24th Ave. S., has built about 90 dwellings in Escanaba in the past seven years, plus several in the area. Twenty-one of these homes have been constructed in the 28-lot Pascoe Addition on Escanaba's south side.

More Boats Over Span Than Under

The most unusual incident at the Mackinac Bridge in 1964 was child forgetting. It happened twice but parents and offspring were quickly united.

Once on a busy, warm July afternoon a couple with five children stopped to see the Fort Michilimackinac restoration in Mackinaw City. Having done so, they took off, crossing the bridge northbound, and paused some five miles west of the bridge at a highway lookout to admire the view.

Instead of five, there were only four towheads aboard. Number 5 by this time was complaining to the Fort officials and village police that his parents were overdoing the educational bit by leaving him to continue his studies at the Fort museum. He was hustled across the bridge to the toll plaza to where his much-harried parents had by this time returned and a glad reunion took place.

Shortly afterward another youngster was left at the tourist information center in Mackinaw City. His parents missed him by the time they reached the toll booths. However, the information had already reached the bridge operations office that a stray child was being transported across the bridge by the Mackinaw City police and when the parents inquired, they had merely to wait for their youngster to arrive.

There are many instances of adults being left behind, particularly when several persons are traveling in a pickup mounted with a camper. These grownups usually manage to reunite themselves without the embarrassment of asking aid from the police or the bridge patrol.

During 1964 there were the average number of unusual occurrences such as 49 motorists being assisted with flat tires, 61 out of gas, 27 having mechanical trouble.

There was one motor vehicle fire, two collisions on the bridge and seven on the toll plaza. One vehicle went out of control on the bridge and hit the railing. There were no personal injury accidents. The bridge patrol provided escorts for some 500 assorted and unusual vehicles and apprehended 6 for failure to pay tolls.

There are far more boats going over the bridge than passing under it and at least three boats going over the bridge never made it, because they were not securely anchored.

School Millage Request Wins By 3 Vote Margin

The Escanaba Area Board of Education — a narrow three-vote victor Tuesday on its proposal to levy a 4.5 mill tax for five years for school operating expenses — puts its restored confidence to work at a special meeting at 8 tonight.

The Board is expected to flash the green light to the high school to go ahead with scheduling of athletic events for next year and to drop all plans for program cutbacks this spring.

Previously, the Board had announced plans to reduce school programs for the spring semester and had held up scheduling of football and basketball games for next year because of the uncertain financial picture resulting from a jolting 2,940 to 1,863 defeat Sept. 1, of a proposal asking four mills for five years.

That defeat was reversed yesterday.

But, my, it was close. Of 5,085 votes cast after a heated campaign, the margin was three. The vote was: Yes, 2,544; No, 2,541.

The results were certified this morning by the Board of Canvassers meeting at the School Administration Building. All voting yesterday, including that in Wells, Ford River and Cornell Townships, was done by voting machine.

New Beginning?

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett, who campaigned almost continually for passage of the proposal since defeat of the 4-mill request on Sept. 1, said: "Maybe this is the beginning of a new confidence by the people in the school administration. I'd like to assure the people that we will do everything in our power to fulfill that confidence and to spend the money wisely and economically."

Dr. Vernon K. Johnson, president of the Board of Education, who discovered a 20 vote error in tabulations that carried what a first seemed to be defeat into victory, was elated.

"I can't tell you how I felt, I just can't tell you," he smiled. "It's wonderful. 'Now we can start thinking in terms of doing some real educational work for our children.'"

Wins In City

The vote yesterday in one of the largest turnouts ever recorded for a school election carried in five of 10 precincts and won — as it turned out — in the city.

Precinct 1 (County Building), Precinct 2 (College West Hall), Precinct 3 (College East Hall) and Precinct 4 (Jefferson School) provided approval by 386 votes. Cornell Township approved 58-51.

The proposal was defeated at Precinct 5 (Junior High), Precinct 6 (Lemmer School), Precinct 7 (Webster School), Precinct 8 (Ford River Township) and Precinct 10 (Wells Township).

The victory drama unfolded at the School Administration Building.

Recount Move?

The Escanaba Taxpayers Association, active campaigners against the 4.5 mill tax proposal for five years which was approved yesterday by voters of the Escanaba Area Public School District, reportedly are planning a recount petition.

The proposal was approved yesterday by three votes, 2,544 to 2,541.

County Clerk William E. Butler said today a representative of the Taxpayers Association made inquiry about recount procedures. Butler said that on elections of the type held by the Escanaba Area School District yesterday recount petitions containing signatures of qualified electors which amount to 10 per cent of total vote cast must be filed within six days of the official certification of canvass.

The canvass was completed this morning with a total vote of 5,085.

Building shortly after 8 p. m., last night when precincts began calling with results.

Lead Changes

The lead changed, first in favor, then against. Ford River Township, the final precinct to report, called.

"Yes, 139. No, 197."

First totals indicated a 17-vote defeat. The room hushed. "Seventeen votes," one Board member said sadly. "We'd better check all the precincts," another said. "There's a difference in the totals we have in precinct two."

Already, Dr. Johnson was on the phone, attempting to clarify the totals.

"Yes, 269. No, 149," he said,

Inland Raises Steel Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Inland Steel Co. has raised the price of galvanized sheets and coils in what might prove the most significant steel industry price rise in more than a year.

If other companies followed suit, it would bring to 12 per cent the proportion of all steel mill products that have been marked up in the last three months.

U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Republic Steel Corp., the three largest producers, all said the Inland move was under study.

Inland's price, effective today, will be $150.50 a ton, up $6 a ton. Inland said adjustments relating to "extras," surcharges for special service, would make the increase average less than 3 per cent.

Galvanized sheets and coils are thin-rolled carbon steel stock coated with zinc for corrosion resistance. They account for about 5 per cent of all steel shipments.

The product is heavily used by auto and appliance makers, builders and in farm applications. Many mills have large backlogs of orders for it.

then exclaimed, "Are you sure? Are you sure? That puts us over the top."

The error had come earlier in the tabulation, crediting 169 "No" votes for the precinct instead of the actual 149.

A 17-vote deficit changed to a three-vote victory.

Hands pumped up and down. Smiles broadened.

A total of 5,085 people had voted. The proposal won by three.

Dr. William Hemes, a member of the Board, said, "Merry Christmas."

The vote by precincts:

Precinct	Yes	No
1 (County Bldg.)	378	277
2 (Coll. West)	269	149
3 (Coll. East)	375	238
4 (Jefferson)	269	141
5 (Jr. High)	136	197
6 (Lemmer)	377	379
7 (Webster)	277	398
8 (Ford River)	139	197
9 (Cornell)	58	51
10 (Wells)	266	414

Winter Kill Of Deer Is Feared

Many more deer could have been harvested with no danger to herd production in the November hunt in the Escanaba District and it may lose large numbers of deer by winter kill if there is severe weather, says Joseph Vogt, district game biologist of the Conservation Department.

The Escanaba District includes Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger.

Vogt's study of the hunt shows a generally good season with an above-average buck kill in the district, which probably cut the planned antlerless deer harvest. Many hunters with permits to kill antlerless deer took bucks instead, said Vogt.

The total kill probably was about the same as last year, but the success percentage is believed higher because of fewer hunters. Official figures won't be available until May. The number of hunters was down in most of the district but held up well in central and southern Marquette County and on the Stonington Peninsula, one of the district's hardest-hunted areas. Track counts on Stonington after the hunt indicate a large residual deer herd, said Vogt.

Best hunter's luck was in these places:

Delta County: Farming area of Schaffer, Bark River, Danforth, Flat Rock, Ogontz, Stonington, Rock, Nahma and midway on Federal Forest Highway 13.

Marquette County: Kate's Grade, Charlie Lakes, Little West, Northwoods Club, Northland and Big Bay-Huron Mountains.

Alger County: Johnson and AuTrain Lakes areas. Locker plants and butchers reported a larger number of deer brought in for processing than last year and say that the deer were fat and in good condition and that antlers were well-developed and that there appeared to be a large percentage of yearling deer in the kill.

The bear kill was little changed from 1963. The Mackinac Bridge tally showed 191 compared with last year's 169. The beech stands about Johnson Lake in Alger County provided good hunting.

Trucker Dumps Rubble In Front Of City Hall

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — "I had no place to put the load," said the driver after he dropped 1½ tons of rubble from his dump truck on the sidewalk in front of City Hall, police reported.

After dropping the load Monday night, William Giagnacova, 40, left his truck on the sidewalk while he went for a "cup of coffee," police said.

Giagnacova said he was protesting recent city action in closing a dump to private truckers. He was charged with violating the state mental hygiene law and taken to Meyer Memorial Hospital for observation, police said.

City workers cleaned up the debris. The truck was towed to a police garage.

Spending For Election

Secretary of State James Hare will tell the next Legislature that reports to his office on election spending show that the Democrats spent $665,565 in the state and the Republicans $883,157 last fall.

Hare will also mention that the reports are "quite meaningless." He doesn't know how much anyone spent on the campaign and is in no position under Michigan's present election spending laws to find out. He suspects, he says, that the reports on spending are like "the top of the iceberg showing above water." (The part of an iceberg below water is 7 times as large as the part showing above water.)

Hare will inform the Legislature of the situation in Michigan's election spending reporting in the hope of legislative remedy. The suggested reform is needed.

Enforcement of a disclosure act on the spending to elect the people's representatives in state and federal offices can strongly influence officeholders' freedom to serve the people. The public seems naively to assume that its refusal to make thousands of little donations to political campaigns to finance its favorites keeps them honest in some mysterious way.

What really happens is that modern political campaigning is enormously expensive and that the persons who pay the bills come asking political favors when their boy wins. This is such a commonplace that many persons and organizations play both sides of the political fence, giving to both the Democrats and the Republicans so that they will have friends in the Legislature and Congress no matter which party wins.

America has shown a national genius for self-government, but there are reasons to be concerned about some trends in our representative government. The increasing federalization of government (control by Washington) makes state office less important and federal office more important. It is much more difficult and a great deal more expensive to win federal office than state office.

This results in pressures on candidates to accept support from predatory elements that expect repayment in political favors. Fortune magazine, in a very revealing report on the unsuccessful campaign of Alan Cranston for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in California quotes John Anson Ford, a Los Angeles political leader: "Even if all large contributions were unselfish and made solely for the general good, the arrangement is undemocratic and inevitably gives the candidate a sense of obligation to his benefactors that differs from his sense of duty to all other contributors."

Cranston estimated that his supporters spent $1 million on his unsuccessful campaign. He says that at least $100 million will be spent annually on campaigns in the near future and twice that amount every four years in the presidential campaigns. If America is to keep its political lists open to others than the rich without fatally obligating them to their contributors, it must manage its elections to reduce the likelihood of financial capture and it must force disclosure of large spending.

Trade And Peace

The battle to win the souls of the emerging countries and to admit them as mature members of the free community is far from over. In fact, the outcome is not at all sure.

The ever-widening gap between rich and poor nations poses a grave danger to free enterprise and world financial stability, as well as to world peace.

That is the consensus of 175 business leaders from 58 countries recently surveyed by the National Industrial Conference Board, a businessmen's research organization.

The gap is widening because the poor nations, the traditional suppliers of raw materials who are just beginning to industrialize, must still import more from the advanced nations than they sell to them.

The challenge is somehow to reverse this flow of wealth and bring it into balance. This means more than helping the underdeveloped nations build factories and learn industrial skills. It means providing a market for the goods that these factories and skills produce.

The problem is that allowing the free inflow of manufactured products into the developed countries may undercut markets there. But as one British executive put it, that is the price that must be paid if the standard of living of the 2.5 billion people in the have-not countries is to improve.

"The consequences of preventing a rise in their standard of living are too awful to contemplate," he replied to the survey, "and this degree of sacrifice on the part of the developed countries must be accepted if the peace of the world is to be secured."

World Dangers

Among the multitude of dangers that threaten the world, two dominate all the rest — nuclear war and uncontrolled population growth.

That, anyway, is the opinion of physicist Dr. Daniel I. Cooper, who adds that it is the grimmest sort of consolation that failure to evade the first would solve the second.

To the solution of the first problem, the maintenance of peace in an age of nuclear weapons, we have spent several hundred billion dollars since Hiroshima, Cooper points out.

To the solution of the second problem, the government last year appropriated about $5 million.

Yet the gradual, long-term explosion of population is no less dangerous than the sudden nuclear kind, he says. In fact, as time goes by, the two problems will tend to become one, for population pressures could disrupt the nuclear balance the great powers have constructed — if the spread of nuclear weapons doesn't do it first.

Even if overpopulation doesn't lead to war or lesser social upsets, it will certainly slow the rate of human progress. It is technically feasible, says Cooper, who is executive editor of International Science and Technology magazine, to feed a world of 10 billion people, or even 40 billion.

The real question is what kind of life they would be able to enjoy in the inevitable overcrowding.

All of this does not mean that we should suddenly begin spending billions on the population problem. Even if the money were provided, there simply are not enough trained people available to use it. Rather we should, he says, begin setting up the facilities for an attack on the problem.

Merry Christmas---Sez Who?

History Accurate?

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA — Around the turn of the year, in a quiet sidepath here, the embattled teachers of American history and social studies will be making a determined effort to counterattack against the unrelenting assaults on their work by militant right-wing organizations.

The annual convention of the American Historical Association will then consider a resolution on academic freedom which won prior endorsement by a constituent group of the National Council for the Social Studies over the Thanksgiving holidays.

The resolution, which obviously has a strong chance of approval, includes these statements:

"That intelligent and reasonable loyalty to the nation, no less than the requirements of honesty and sound scholarship, demand that teachers and authors of textbooks and other teaching materials should strive to present a truthful picture of the past and the present . . .

"That criticism of teachers, textbooks, and teaching materials should be based not upon grounds that reflect the point of view of any particular interest group, but only on the grounds of accuracy and scholarship, as tested by consideration of the evidence . . .

"That attempts by any individual or groups to impose their views on teachers and students as the only road to the truth and the only measure of loyalty are hostile to that great goal of American education which aims to produce independent and thoughtful men and women who are responsible and informed citizens."

What the sponsors of this resolution would like to see flow from it is the formation all over the country of academic freedom committees equipped to defend both teachers and students against "capricious, arbitrary and unreasonable attacks."

That such a proposition is considered necessary at all is a measure of the severity of the right-wing bombardment against the schools. Though the assaults are sweeping, the content of public school U. S. history books is an especially inviting target.

The right-wing militants do not conceal their purposes. The history of which they disapprove they want either deleted altogether from textbooks or portrayed as the blackest evil. Thus they are enraged when the United Nations is even mentioned, and usually they want Franklin Roosevelt's

BARBS

Forecast for next year's television programming is "more of the same." That's very good news—for bookstores.

Bartender we know complains his customers include too many "Florence Nightingales." Explains they're the guys who order one beer and nurse it for an hour.

Anyone with a sense of humor or doesn't mind being needed — except by a nurse with a hypo.

When you hear a guy complaining about all the work his boss loads on him, just remind him that it will be a sad day when the boss has no work for him.

New Deal depicted as the quintessence of sin.

The pressures exerted on students, teachers, superintendents, boards of education and various other local and state authorities are now a well-told tale. It is not generally realized how fully some of the attackers are organized.

For instance, a right-wing outfit called America's Future has for years sponsored an effort called Operation Textbook, whose stated aim is to "evaluate" textbooks for high school use. Persons with academic credentials comprise the evaluation committee.

The critics say they are governed by the notion that schools too frequently put insufficient stress on patriotism and are guilty of advancing the causes of communism and Godlessness. School defenders argue that many times these themes are just a thin cloak for the critics' insinuation of their own special outlook into the school curriculum.

Nor does the history textbook problem end with the right wingers' complaints. This is the era of the highly vocal special interest—management, labor, racial and religious minorities, nationality groupings, and so on.

Nearly all of these shout loudly if they dislike the "treatment" they get from particular history texts. Understandably, the formulators of these works, including the many publishers, are gun-shy. Consequently many history texts today are bland and non-controversial. But history, as its teachers will be arguing here soon, is by definition a thing of human conflict and rivalry, in which pleasant facts mingle inescapably with unpleasant ones.

The Doctor Says:

'Boeck's Sarcoid' Common

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

"What is Boeck's sarcoid? I never heard of it before," asks a reader.

There are a hundred or more fairly common diseases that the average reader has never heard of until his doctor tells him he's got one.

Boeck's sarcoid or sarcoidosis is one of them.

This is a chronic disease, the exact cause of which is unknown. Some authorities believe it is a form of allergic reaction produced by your own tissues and not due to external contact, inhaling a pollen or anything you eat.

Others believe that in some victims it is caused by inhaling the pollen of pine trees or dust from peanut hulls.

Sarcoidosis is characterized by the formation of hard nodules. Since they may occur in any part of the body, the symptoms are varied. The commonest form involves the lungs. Because the nodules are painless, they are often discovered only when a routine chest X ray is made.

Mesabi To Get Natural Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, received Federal Power Commission authority Monday to initiate natural gas service in the Mesabi Iron Range area of Minnesota.

Northern was authorized to extend its main pipeline 48 miles into the Mesabi area, which now is without natural gas service, and to make sales to two industrial customers and four resale customers. The estimated cost of the project is $13,821,450.

The Mesabi project was proposed as the first half of a two-part application by Northern. The other phase is a $35.7 million proposal to serve the Upper Peninsula area of Michigan. A hearing on this and other proposals is scheduled to begin here Jan. 26.

Northern was authorized to serve Erie Mining Co. and Oglebay-Norton-Ford as industrial customers and to reserve capacity for possible service to Hanna Mining Co.

The resale customers will be: Iron Ranges Natural Gas Co.; the Village of Hoyt Lakes; the Village of Hibbing; and the City of Virginia.

In addition to its main-line extension, Northern also will add new facilities in Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska.

Pay Boost Asked

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Police Officers Association has asked for pay increases for officers that city officials estimate would cost nearly $4.8 million a year. The request calls for increases ranging from $387 to $1,500 annually, with starting pay boosted from $6,115 to $6,502.

CHICAGO (AP)—ZIP code is helping to speed delivery of Christmas packages throughout the country.

Last year some gifts didn't arrive until the third week in January because of a monumental jam in Chicago, which processes most of the parcel post going from coast to coast.

The Chicago office, largest in the nation, handled 47 million pieces of mail during last year's rush.

"We were really in a bind," Clairborne Bolton, assistant director of operations, recalled today.

"At this time last year we had nearly 100,000 sacks of Christmas packages unprocessed. Some of it was stored in a garage."

"We had mail piled up all over the place. But this year everything's up to snuff—we don't have one sack of mail lying around."

"Oh, man, after last year, I thought they would roll some heads," said Raymond F. Cummings, day parcel post supervisor. "We were still working on mail three weeks after Christmas."

"Now we're as clean as a whistle. Somebody along the line did a tremendous job."

Last year, Cummings said, a late surge of parcel post flooded post offices throughout the country.

"They did what they could with it but in the end, they threw it to Chicago and we were stuck with it," he said.

The Postmaster Inspection Service was called in to study

Son Of Dewey Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Partner At 32

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas E. Dewey Jr., son of the former New York governor, will become the youngest general partner of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. on Jan. 1. He is 32.

Dewey joined the firm in 1958 and was appointed a vice president a year ago.

Asked if his father's name had helped him in business, Dewey replied: "It's hard to say specifically. The name tends to engender good will — that's a good phrase. But when you get down to business, I couldn't say."

Chicago processing procedures. The inspection service recommended establishment of sectional center distribution points, or ZIP code, for parcel post.

"That was the real key to this whole thing," Cummings said. "Finer distribution of mail — spreading it out across the country and keeping it away from the center."

Thanks to ZIP code, agreed Postmaster Harry Semrow, Chicago now handles 17 per cent less parcel post.

"They're all going to get their gifts on time this year," he said. "We're just as clean and current now as in the middle of June."

Convicts Await Holiday Paroles

JACKSON (AP) — "I'll be home for Christmas," is the promise of a number of inmates at the State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Under the "Christmas parole" policy of the State Corrections Department, any prisoner eligible for parole between Dec. 14 and Jan. 10 can be released to his family by Christmas.

Parole officers have been working overtime to help the prisoners. They have been lining up jobs and making sure the men will have a home or place to live.

Gordon Fuller, parole board chairman, said between 160 and 165 prisoners will be released under the special paroles, most of them from the Southern Michigan prison.

Those who are broke are eligible for small loans from the institution. The repayment rate is surprisingly high, Fuller said.

Those without proper clothing are given a suit and whatever else they might need to be adequately dressed by the institution. Most have a modest backlog of money they earned in the prison.

Men eligible for parole are being released as fast as they can be processed. This will continue right up until Christmas day.

A few might not make it by Christmas but are allowed out as soon afterward as possible.

All will hear the traditional last words from the releasing guard:

"Good luck, and try not to come back."

A Service whose popularity proves its attractiveness. Christmas comes but once a year. And so does this service. The Gospel always is the same: it is the glad tidings of God's grace in Christ Jesus. But the Christmas setting makes that Gospel particularly effective and heightens the joy it in itself bestows. Add to that all the external elements that move our hearts—the darkness of the night hour, the beauty of the church, the festival music—and this service becomes the beautiful beginning of a joyous holiday. A most cordial welcome to worship in Bethany Lutheran.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL
WOMP stood in disgrace with the Snowman's hat down over his face. He could not escape, for all the Fairyland folk surrounded him.

"Now," said Santa. "Perhaps you will tell us what is going on."

"I'll tell you!" cried George. And he told Santa how Womp had left the Prince in an enchanted circle in the forest east of Santa Land and how he had come to Fairyland to bewitch Santa and all the fairy folk with his flute playing.

"Why is this?" Santa asked Womp sternly. "What have I done to you?"

Womp tried to blame it all on his master. "I am the servant of Kerchew, acting king of the Kingdom of Razenpie," he babbled in a muffled voice from inside the Snowman's hat.

His nephew Prince Chad is to become the rightful king on Christmas Day. My master thought that if Christmas did not come to Razenpie, he would himself remain the king and I, of course, would remain his faithful servant."

Santa picked the man with the flute from the floor. "So," he said, "you planned to play a magic tune on this flute that would put us all to sleep? Well, I, too, can play a magic tune and it will be just for you."

Santa put the flute to his mouth and played a tune never heard before. Strange, spine-prickling notes filled the air, and, indeed, they were magic, for when it was over Womp was a man with no longer. He had been turned into a rubber doll!

"He caused harm," said Santa. "Now I shall put him in a child's Christmas stocking and he will cause pleasure for a change. When he is worn out and the child has thrown him away, I shall turn him back into himself and I think he will have learned to change his ways." He turned to George and said, "Will you sing now for the Festival?"

"Oh, no!" protested George reluctantly. "I must get to the Prince, for tomorrow is Christmas Day and his kingdom must be saved."

Santa smiled. "Sing first. Then we will go to the Prince."

So the turtle had his turn at last. He threw back his head and shut his eyes and sang from his heart. But, alas! He had suffered too much since the Festival began and his voice was out of sorts.

Nevertheless, when it was over, all the fairy creatures clapped and shouted "Bravo! Bravo!" and Santa said, "I would like you to come to live with me and be my Singing Turtle."

This was even better than winning First Prize at the Festival. George said, "Hurrah!" and the Snowman said, "Can I come, too?"

"Indeed you can," said Santa. "And there will be plenty of snow to make you whole again."

Santa took the turtle and the Snowman in his sleigh and flew to the forest east of Santa Land where they found the Prince imprisoned inside the circle Womp had drawn in the snow.

"Brush away the line," said Santa.

The Snowman hopped on his one foot and swept away the line with his broom.

The Prince flew out of the circle and into Santa's arms crying, "Come to Razenpie! Oh, you must come to Razenpie with me!"

"I intend to," said Santa. "We'll go this very night, for it is Christmas Eve. We'll put wicked Kerchew off the throne and Razenpie will have you for its proper king!"

The Prince rushed to pick up his crown which had fallen in the snow. He put it on his head and cried, joyfully, "From now on every day will be Christmas Day in Razenpie!"

Then he and the turtle and the Snowman marched with Santa to Santa Land singing "Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas to all."

"Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas to all."

Boost Proposed In Compensation

LANSING (AP) — Disabled workers could collect as much as $155 a week for 13 weeks under recommendations by Republican members of an interim legislative study committee.

The committee, headed by lame duck Rep. Riemer Van Til R-Holland, Tuesday issued the second report in a month on the controversial state Workmen's Compensation Act which is sure to be a major legislative issue in the coming session.

The first report was a list of liberalizing recommendations by Weldon Yeager, director of the State Workmen's Compensation Department, an appointee of Gov. George Romney.

A third report, by the Governor's Task Force on Workmen's Compensation, is expected soon.

Limitation Included
Van Til's report, turned over to House Clerk Norman Phillo, also recommended a seven-year statute of limitations on injury claims, with payments retroactive for only one year. There is no limitation at present.

The report also calls for five more compensation referees to help cut down abuses of so-called redemptions, in which workers settle for a lump sum instead of long-term payments. The workers often suffer, Van Til said, while attorneys often collect fees up to 25 per cent of settlements.

It also called for study of limiting liability to only two years for employers who hire previously injured workers, pre-existing risks and handicapped persons. Compensation beyond two years would be paid out of the second-injury fund financed by a tax on insurance companies and self-insured employers.

This, Van Til said later, might mean that employers would hire workers they would not have considered earlier because of the financial risk.

Medical Information
The report also called for authorizing department referees to hire medical experts "on an independent basis" and for the "free exchange of medical information."

The burden of responsibility rests with labor," the report said of possible changes in the next legislative session. "It is within their power to raise benefits as they wish. However, it may be wise for labor to consider the economic impact of any revision of the Workmen's Compensation Act."

The Democrat-dominated legislature, Van Til said, "will have to watch what it does—or industry will just automate a little more if costs get too great."

The committee report was not signed by its Democratic members, Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, and Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit.

Ski Club Gets Hills In Shape

The Gladstone Ski Club members have been busy getting the hills and towns in shape for the coming season it is reported by Walter Palmquist, secretary.

Although the hills are lacking in snow cover at the present time, according to Palmquist, when it does come they will be ready. State inspectors have checked the towns and their recommendations are being put into effect. A few safety changes still are being worked out.

The City of Gladstone has cleared the hills of short stubble and grass with the mowing machine and a committee from the Ski Club has been working on a new lighting system using mercury vapor lights which should be completed when the skiing season begins.

John Zimmerman and his assistants, Robert Barron and John Hebert, are working out reforms in the Ski Patrol.

A ski school for members of the club will open on Jan. 2 and applications for the school may be picked up at Manning's Shoe Store in Escanaba, or Hanson's Sporting Goods in Gladstone. Miss Marianne Cowell will be an instructor this year as well as Walter Palmquist.

Adults wishing lessons are asked to contact Palmquist at GA 5-9902.

The park will be open Thursday evenings from 7 to 10:30 p. m. and Saturdays from 1 to 5 p. m. If sufficient interest is shown, the park may also be open Saturday evenings.

Officers of the club are Lawrence Martin, president; John Zimmerman, vice president; Walter Palmquist, secretary, and Mariane Cowell, treasurer. Trustees, Wilbur Montgomery, Robert Barron, Gordon Marshall, Oscar Ohman, Francis Roy, Fred Therrian, Claude Bohen and John Hebert.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norton will again be in charge of the clubhouse and the concession stand.

Dickens Latest Coach Casualty In College Rank

By The Associated Press
Phil Dickens, whose seven-year tenure at Indiana failed to lift the Hoosiers out of the Big Ten doldrums, has joined Wayne Hardin, Bill Barnes and John Stigman among the major coaching casualties of the 1964 college football season.

Dickens, who learned his football at Tennessee under the late Gen. Robert Neyland and took over at Indiana in 1958, resigned his $17,500-a-year post Tuesday and accepted a job as general manager of Hoosier off-campus activities.

Knicks Have New Formula

By The Associated Press
The New York Knickerbockers, whose victories come few and far between, have come up with a simple formula for success. All they have to do to win in the National Basketball Association is to hit on 50 per cent of their shots and display scoring balance.

The Knicks parlayed those ingredients, offset the ominous presence of Wilt Chamberlain and went on to upend the San Francisco Warriors 124-118 in Sacramento, Calif., Tuesday night.

The game between the tailend teams of the Eastern and Western divisions was the only one scheduled. It drew a crowd of 2,654 at the Sacramento High School Pavilion.

New York, in gaining only its ninth triumph in 32 starts, connected on 56 of 110 field-goal attempts for a 50.9 per cent average. Seven Knicks hit double scoring figures, led by rookie Willis Reed's 25 points.

McPeak Figures Browns To Make It Interesting

By The Associated Press
Washington's Bill McPeak, one of the NFL coaches who met both Baltimore and Cleveland in the regular season, thinks the Browns will run at the Colts Sunday and make things interesting in the title game.

game of the year. Still, Sonny Jurgensen got hot in the second half and passed for something like 240 yards.

"Against Baltimore we were minus two regular second-year men — Lonnie Sanders and Jim Steffen. Then we lost Charley Taylor in the third quarter. Until we lost Taylor we were giving them all they could handle. But when they finally broke loose we haven't seen an avalanche like that all year."

McPeak said Baltimore red dogs about 20 to 25 times a game compared to Cleveland's more conservative eight or 10 times. Both did a good job of pass blocking.

"Jim Brown is in a class by himself," said McPeak. "So is John Unitas. Paul Warfield and Gary Collins have come on to match Baltimore's receivers. It should be a real good ball game."

Cleveland beat Washington twice, 27-13 and 34-24, during the National Football League season. Baltimore thumped the Redskins 45-17 in the final game.

"We played Cleveland twice when we were at full strength," said McPeak. "In the first game we outplayed them except for fumbles. In the second game we played our poorest defensive game."

Taylor Gets Houston Job

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers have rearranged the chain of command among their coaches, with Hugh (Bones) Taylor emerging as field manager.

He replaces Sammy Baugh, head coach until he decided last week the job took up too much of his ranching time.

Baugh will stay on as back-field coach and former Oiler head coach Lou Rymkus is expected to be named as an assistant.

The Oilers thus would set a record for former head coaches on one staff, since Rymkus was the first head coach of the American Football League team in 1960, until he was fired. Taylor is the fifth Oiler head coach since 1960.

Taylor, a native of Wynne, Ark., was Baugh's favorite receiver in eight years with the Washington Redskins. The former end was called as an assistant when Baugh took over the New York Titans and again when he took over the Oilers last summer.

Baugh said behind-the-desk duties of the head coaching position kept him away from his West Texas ranch too much and was the cause of his giving up a contract which had a year to run.

Rudy LaRusso Back On Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Forward Rudy LaRusso is slated to rejoin the Los Angeles Lakers tonight when the National Basketball Association club takes on the Philadelphia 76ers at the Sports Arena.

The Lakers learned earlier this week that LaRusso's ailment was merely a contusion involving an old injury. It had been thought initially that the Los Angeles star was suffering from a new back injury that might keep him out of action from six to eight weeks.

Cassius Clay Rarin' To Go

NEW YORK (AP) — There may be another heavyweight champion crowned by the time Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston meet in their once-postponed, return title fight in June at Boston.

Coach Guss Lord's Stephenson quint will lead the conference back into action following the vacation with a game at Sault Ste. Marie Saturday, Jan. 2. The remainder of the GLC teams are idle until the following week.

"The exact date hasn't been set yet but it will be in June," said Angelo Dundee, trainer and manager of Clay. "Cassius is feeling fine and rarin' to go."

There had been a Boston report that the Clay-Liston fight would be held on April 19 but Dundee said Tuesday "that's too soon."

The return fight had been scheduled for Nov. 16 but was postponed on Nov. 13 when Clay had to have an emergency hernia operation.

Three other teams have suffered only one conference defeat to date. Marquette and Munising are 4-1 and Ishpeming is 3-1.

The World Boxing Association, which stripped Clay of recognition because he signed for the return fight with Liston, hopes to have a new champion well before June.

Titans Win On Buzzer Bucket

DETROIT (AP)—John Watson's 40-foot jump shot at the final buzzer capped a comeback and gave the University of Detroit a 75-73 victory over Colorado State University Tuesday night.

It has decreed that the winner of the Ernie Terrell-Eddie Machen bout will be the WBA's champion. The WBA also said the winner must fight the victor of the 12-round bout between former champion Floyd Patterson of New York and George Chuvalo of Toronto at New York's Madison Square Garden.

After Detroit tied the game once, the visiting Rams built up a 73-69 point lead with 2:17 to go. But two jump shots by Lou Hyatt tied the score with 1:28 left and Watson won it with his wild shot that hit the rim once while the buzzer was sounding and then went through the net.

The WBA rates them in this order: Terrell, Patterson, Chuvalo and Machen.

Collier Given New Contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blanton Collier, the soft-spoken Kentucky gentleman in his second year as Cleveland Browns' coach, has been signed to a new three-year contract, Art Modell, club president, announced today.

The salary was not disclosed. Collier leads the Browns into Municipal Stadium Sunday for the National Football League championship against the Baltimore Colts.

Lesinski Will Draw Pension

LANSING (AP) — For his 14 years in the legislature, Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski will be eligible for a $3,080 annual pension starting in 21 years.
Lesinski will retire Jan. 1 to become chief judge of the State Court of Appeals. His deferred pension was among 20 approved for retiring House and Senate members by the Legislative Retirement Board.
The maximum pension, which amounts to half-salary, requires 16 years' service in the legislature. Thus Rep. Andrew Cobb, R-Elsie, who failed in a bid for the Senate this year, will be eligible for $3,500 a year in 1971.
Also among the approved pensions was $3,080 a year, starting in 1971 when he reaches age 60, for retiring House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston.
Green failed in last month's election to unseat Secretary of State James Hare.
Sen. Farrell Roberts, R-Pontiac, who left the Senate to run for the Court of Appeals and lost, could draw a $1,820 a year pension starting in 1982. But Roberts plans to run for a Senate vacancy at a special election in April. If he wins, his pension will increase in future years.

Blood Donors Top 135 Quota

Blood donors went over the top in the special blood procurement clinic for the Badger Blood Bank held in Escanaba Tuesday, giving a total of 140 pints. The quota for the day was 135 pints.

Also credited to Delta County was 15 pints collected at St. Francis Hospital since the last clinic.

"Many of the donors appeared here for the first time, which was most gratifying because it indicates widening interest," said Mrs. Edward Olsen, Red Cross blood procurement chairman.

In response to a special appeal there was also a good response of Negative type blood donors, she reported.

"We hope that Delta County has reached a level of production so that its membership in the Badger Blood Bank is no longer questionable," said Mrs. Olsen. "The next clinic will be in March."

The Red Cross sponsors the membership in the Blood Bank to provide free blood for any resident of Delta County when a patient in any hospital anywhere.

Pulling Together Is Called Best Civic Exercise

The opposition to the Escanaba Area Public Schools is symptomatic of "something a little more serious and deeper" than concern about dollars in support of education, Luther M. Barrett, Area Schools superintendent, told the Rotary Club at its meeting at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

"If I were a doctor, which I am not, I might prescribe treatment for this disease," he said. The symptoms of the ailment he described as:

1 — A growth on the shoulder, sometimes referred to as a chip; 2 — "Hard headedness"; and 3 — A sharp tongue and an attitude of indifference to the needs of others.

Continuing his analogy the school superintendent said that "anti-biotics" might be prescribed for the disease. Antibiotics such as anti-prejudice, anti-bias and anti-bigotry, he said.

There is need for a soothing "for the human organism," he suggested; need to care about others; and for exercise the need to "pull together" to tone up the community system.

Supt. Barrett noted that he and his family have been here a little more than four months and that he has "particularly abhorred the contention among elements of the community over the school and other issues."

"We should be able to join hands and pull together," he said. "I think there is some progress being made in this direction. At least there are indications of it."

He praised the Board of Education as a "group of dedicated people" who spend many hours in service to the community.

Barrett was introduced by W. J. Lavolette of the Rotary Club's program committee. Robert Haack, club president, conducted the meeting and read greetings from children in special rooms of the John A. Lemmer School, and from Terry Baker of England, who was a guest of the Rotarians here last summer.

Christmas Trip Gift To Student

A Christmas trip to Escanaba and his first American "home" has gladdened the hearts of Pierre Kabuya of the Congo and his hosts, the Rev. and Mrs. D. Douglas Seleen of 1401 S. 15th St.

Two years ago when he first came to this country to study Pierre was a guest for six weeks in the Seleen home. The Rev. Seleen is minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Seleens met Pierre through the African-American Institute program. His stay with the family — including the Seleen's three children, Leita Claire, Charles and Billy — was so pleasant that he expressed a desire to be with them again at this holiday season.

Pierre, a Roman Catholic, is a sophomore at Gonzaga University, Spokane, Wash.

Christ The King Special Service Christmas Eve

Christmas Eve worship services at Christ The King Lutheran Church in Escanaba will take place at 7 and at 10:45.

The 7 p.m. service will be for families with younger children. The Junior Choir will sing "Lo, How A Rose 'er Blooming." Bruce Irving, Dennis Eastman and Michael Benoit, a Brass Ensemble, will open the services with a medley of Christmas Carols. Miss Kristine Fletcher, violinist will play a selection for the offertory. Pastor Erland Carlson will give the message.

At the 10:45 service, the Senior Choir will sing, "While By Our Sleeping Flock We Lay." This will be in addition to the Brass Ensemble and the violin medley numbers. This service will be planned primarily for adults and youth. The public is invited to attend both services.

Members of the First Presbyterian Church, hearing of the young man's wish to spend Christmas with his friends in Escanaba, made the trip possible.

He will leave for Spokane and the return to his studies a couple days after Christmas. His home is Leopoldville, Republic of the Congo, and he plans to return to the Congo when he has completed his studies. He is majoring in civil engineering.

Rock 4-H Club Is Preparing For County Fair

ROCK — The Rock 4-H Club girls collected old nylon and made squares for a nylon puff quilt, the boys are making a snow pusher and the club bought a stuffed toy dog. All these will be given away at the 4-H county fair to be held sometime in February. Tickets are available from any Rock 4-H club member. The club is raising funds for a trip next summer.

The knitting group will hold its next meeting Jan. 6 after school at the home of Mrs. Arnold Sayen. All members are to have the pillow squares and sample squares for notebook completed. The squares and notebooks are to be taken to the meeting.

The first year home improvement members will meet at the school library on Jan. 14 after school. The meeting date of second year members will be worked out later.

The boys group will meet at the Donald Seppanen home Wednesday, Dec. 30, at 7 p.m. for a lesson on small motors and woodworking.

Members made Christmas decorations for the home last week. They used tin cans to make stars. From corrugated paper and cardboard they made stars and sprayed them copper.

The club plans to hold a dance for young people in the community. Tentative date is Jan. 8.

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hogberg have been in their Pittsburgh home for less than a year since their move from Dearborn, Mich., when he was promoted from head of Michigan Limestone Division of U. S. Steel Corp. to vice president, raw materials, and now they're leaving for Venezuela because he has been named president of U. S. Steel's Orinoco Mining Co.

Mrs. Hogberg wrote Escanaba friends "We'll be living in Puerto Ordaz, which is 300 miles inland from Caracas. This is a startling change . . . the country and climate there are much different from here and it will be a real adjustment for both of us. Carl is especially looking forward to his new challenge."

"We can't say we like the idea of being so far away from our family and friends, but there is a daily plane service from Caracas to the States. The distance from Caracas to Pittsburgh is about the same as from Pittsburgh to California. When you look at it that way, it doesn't seem so far."

Contamination Top Problem In U. S. Conservation

WASHINGTON — Contamination of the environment — waters, soils and air — has been judged as America's most critical conservation problem by Thomas L. Kimball, executive director of the National Wildlife Federation.

In his summary of discussions during the 11th annual conference on National Conservation Issues held at the federation headquarters recently, Kimball said increasing pollution of the nation's soil, water and air resources from human and industrial wastes, including chemical poisons, will soon become a serious threat to human survival.

"These pollutants," Kimball said, "are already killing fish and wildlife. There is increasing evidence that they may have long-range, although still not fully determined, effects on human beings." Kimball commended increased research programs in this field but urged tighter controls on pollution, particularly pesticides, until science has determined long-range effects on not only wildlife resources but also mankind.

Other major conservation problems or needs discussed during the meeting of national citizen organizations included:

1. Extension of accelerated wetlands acquisition program to save America's waterfowl resource.
2. Proper implementation of the Land and Water Conservation Act passed by the 88th Congress to provide outdoor recreation facilities for the American people.
3. Need for changes in laws affecting public lands and modernization of mining laws.
4. Coordination of the program to protect and preserve rare and endangered species of fish and wildlife.

Motivation Is Seen As Key To War On Poverty

By JEAN WORTH

LANSING — The state's directors of educational policy from Dr. Lynn Bartlett down are concerned with a human factor in the War on Poverty that has not had much accent. It is motivation.

The federal and state governments have been engaged in the War on Poverty for many years in their educational, welfare, economic development and rehabilitation programs and President Johnson has now obtained creation of a new agency, the Economic Opportunity Office which will coordinate and expand these efforts.

Michigan has a new Economic Opportunity Office to direct the program at the state level. Malcolm R. Lovell Jr., is director of the office.

As Michigan moves forward in 1965 with its efforts in the War on Poverty the reasons why some of the state's people have such low income in a boom period will be studied intently and become the basis for remedial programs.

But already, says Dr. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, Dr. Edgar L. Grim, assistant superintendent, and other educational policy leaders, some of the big problems are apparent in the effort to upgrade the skills of low income persons and give them more income.

A keystone problem, they say is motivation, the quality of will which makes some persons work so hard to achieve, while others don't much mind being unemployed.

Can't Recruit All

Already it is clear that all the persons who could be benefited by a training program cannot be drawn into one on a volunteer basis. Some don't do much with the instruction once they're in a training course. Here in Lansing some of the early trainees regarded training as a substitute for the dole. Some thought that instead of just collecting their check they had to put in time in a course to "earn" it; they did not regard the course as a means of improvement, but as a qualification for aid.

This will not be a problem as the program moves along, but it indicates the obstacle course nature of the economic opportunity effort.

That the poverty fighters are concerned about motivation is evident in the pioneering courses in their program, like the Northern Michigan University's course for dropouts coordinated by Ivan Ryan. It offers not only job training, but also "job world orientation." It concerns itself with why and how of employment.

Job Orientation

This may seem to the hasty action people as an educational boondoggle, but our state school chiefs think it may be as important as the job training itself and maybe more so.

There is much evidence to support their thinking. Alfred Malabre Jr., writing in the December issue of The Reporter on the first skirmish in the War on Poverty says "the roots of the unemployment problem facing President Johnson appear to extend far beyond matters of economic growth and training. Involved are questions of attitude — of the job seekers themselves, of educators, of business and government and of union leaders.

There are no tidy statistics that can spell this out, but a pattern can be pieced together.

"At a Newark, N. J., center set up as a federal pilot project to find new ways to combat teen-age joblessness (double the national average), social workers arranged a short program to train them to become waiters. Newark papers were full of help-wanted ads for waiters and waitresses, but the course never got started. There simply weren't enough youngsters who wanted to wait on tables, that work didn't have the necessary glamor and many youngsters would just as soon remain unemployed.

No Easy Answer

"The incident in Newark is by no means unique, talks with dozens of social workers across the country indicate. Nine of every 10 American schools give no practical training for jobs in industry but concentrate instead on college preparation, yet only a fifth of the nation's young people ever get all the way through college. A third of the funds being spent on vocational training are for agricultural training, although only one trainee in 10 actually ends up doing farm work.

"It is much easier to list all the reasons why unemployment may bedevil efforts to build the Great Society that it is to offer constructive suggestions on how the problem should be met. Many economists note the inadequacies of administration plans but few step forward with alternate proposals."

Detroit Held In Wife-Killing

DETROIT (AP) — A 25-year-old unemployed tool and die worker was held for investigation of murder in the fatal shooting of his estranged wife and wounding of the victim's cousin Tuesday in suburban St. Clair Shores.

Police said a witness identified Andrew Mallen as the man who fired several shots from a .22 caliber pistol, killing his wife, Olive Marie, 35, and wounding Mrs. Gladys Wilkie, 47 of St. Clair Shores.

Investigating officers found both women lying on the lawn in front of a home. Mrs. Mallen was dead on arrival at Mount Clemens General Hospital, with five bullet wounds of the chest and shoulders.

Mallen was leaning over his wife's body and holding her hand when police arrived at the scene, detectives said.

The witness said Mallen approached the car in which the two women were riding and fired through the closed left front window. As the two tried to run away, they were cut down by bullets.

Detective Lt. Leon Starr said Mallen apparently wanted to talk to his wife and became enraged when she refused. The Mallens were married last May 30 and separated in September.

Veteran Editor Dies In Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — Charles (C. D.) McNamee, who spent 49 years as a reporter and editor on Michigan newspapers, died Monday at Muskegon's Mercy Hospital. He was 74.

Long a sufferer from osteomyelitis, a bone disease, McNamee underwent countless operations on his legs. He entered the hospital for another Dec. 5. Doctors said an infection, following the surgery, contributed to McNamee's death.

McNamee retired after 42 years as a reporter and editor at the Muskegon Chronicle on Aug. 1, 1959. His "Most Anything" column was one of the newspaper's most popular features for 35 years.

Long active in civic affairs, McNamee won the Distinguished Service Award from the Michigan Department of the Marine Corps League in 1951 for his efforts in organizing the Muskegon Goodfellows, a group of former newsmen who sold papers each Christmas to provide gifts for underprivileged children.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Holiday Baskets Are Delivered By Gladstone Hi-Y

Gladstone Hi-Y Club members, under the direction of Wallace Cameron and Donald Pfotenbauer, delivered about 50 Christmas baskets for the Child's Welfare Club Wednesday afternoon. Each basket contained food for a complete Christmas dinner, toys for the children and many other articles.

The Child's Welfare Club receives gifts from service clubs, church and school organizations for these baskets and the food was purchased with funds received in a house-to-house canvas early in the fall. Mrs. Marvin Larsen is president of the club and Mrs. Mel Nolan is chairman of the Christmas baskets project. Gladstone Firemen repaired toys for the baskets.

CONFIDENCE

The Escanaba Area Board of Education and Administration must be congratulated on the well deserved vote of confidence given them by the voters of the Escanaba Area School District.

We must consider this a solid repudiation of the position of the Taxpayers Association. It is unthinkable that very many of our citizens would agree with the personal attacks on the character and competence of fellow citizens who man our school board. The tactics of the extremists simply do not fit the thinking of the fine citizens of this area.

A few months ago an attempt was made to silence several clergymen who dared point out the moral issues involved in these decisions. Since that time one particular moral problem has come into even sharper focus. One of the Commandments states clearly: "You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor." This means we should not... "slander, nor raise injurious reports against our neighbor, but apologize for him, speak well of him, and put the most charitable construction on all his actions."

To try to put the most charitable construction on the words of recent ad writers, we should perhaps assume they did not realize the low level of their accusations and insinuations.

By our vote on Tuesday we have said to the school board: "We trust you. Carry on the good work!"
